Per the US Marshall Service for the Southern District of Alabama:

All visitors to the court, including attorneys, who are not employees of the US Court must enter through the same door and adhere to security screening procedures. This is not a new policy for the district. As of January 20, 2012 this policy is now subject to strict enforcement by the Court Security Officers. A representative from the US Marshall Service will be present at the February 2, Best Practice Forum to answer any questions.
